

I totally disagree with this petition because it would retain the morse code proficiency test thus prevent some people that would make excellent amateur radio operators from going below 50Mhz, just because they can not do morse code. Even the U.S. military does not use it any more. It could be that it is no more efficient than any other form of communication.